BIOGRAPHY

Dyna Edyne is a Haitian-American R&B and soul singer-songwriter based between Miami and New York City, known affectionately by fans as #TreeWoman. Her sound moves fluidly between sultry R&B, ethereal soul, hip-hop, and Afrobeats, and her music acts as a vessel for healing, honesty, and raw emotional connection.

Dyna has opened for Leon Thomas, Mariah the Scientist, and August Alsina, performed at RNB Only Estival and Sunchips Art Basel, and delivered an SXSW Artist Spotlight showcase. In 2025 she launched her debut headline run, the Treewoman Flourish & Flow Tour, across Miami, Austin, LA, and NYC, paired with an interactive fan series called "Tree Talks."

Her single "F.L.Y." soundtracked a national Range Rover television campaign in 2025 — her second national placement with the brand — and her music has been synced to BelAir (Season 4). She's been publicly praised by Erykah Badu, voted R&B Artist of the Year by Miami New Times, and featured on Trina's EP "Dynasty 6."

Dyna's catalog spans the albums Where the Petals Fall (2025), STEEZ. (Deluxe) (2024), Mahogany (2021), and Branches (2017 — a top Artist seller within its first two months). She's built an engaged following across Instagram, TikTok, and YouTube, and continues to partner with brands looking for an authentic, Afro-diasporic sound and story.
